Speaking of Love
A Celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.
Benefiting The Martin Luther King Community Center

Witness Indianapolis based poets, singers and dancers speak of love in the galleries of The Indianapolis Museum of Art as we remember Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Dr. King's legacy speaks truth and love to powers that sought to divide humanity based on fear and prejudices. Visitors of all ages are encouraged to step up to the mic and share their own expressions of love.

Sunday, January 17, 2016
The Indianapolis Museum of Art
4000 Michigan St. Indianapolis, IN.

1-4 PM. FREE with suggested donation.

We are collecting donations in the form of arts supplies (construction paper, markers, scissors...), games (board games, large print cross-word puzzles...), toiletries (bar soap, toilet paper, paper towels...) to assist The Martin Luther King Community Center with their youth and senior programs.

In August of 1971 Butler-Tarkington Neighborhood Association Board of Managers began a discussion centered around the problem of young people hanging around in groups in front of area businesses and on street corners. This led to an idea of a Youth Project that would give area youth a source for constructive involvement in meaningful activities while simultaneously providing a means to keep them off the streets. With the help of many important leaders in our community, including Rev Damon Roach and Rev. Charles Montgomery, Sr, the Martin Luther King Community Center is still bringing solutions to neighborhood problems. Tomorrow, our Founders Breakfast will kick-off our 1929 Fundraising Campaign to celebrate the birth day of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. For 45 years we've played a vital role in the community and will march onward toward 45 more. The Cooking Matters Class started off last week with great success with participants creating a frittata.
